The goal of the Large-Scale Dataset for Speech Emotion database is to develop new techniques, technology, and algorithms for automatic speech emotion analysis and recognition. The licensors are involved in an ongoing effort to develop this dataset of emotional speech. The dataset is meant to aid research efforts in the general area of developing, testing and evaluating algorithms for human speech analysis.

To advance the state-of-the-art in speech emotion recognition, this dataset is made available to the research community. Due to copyright reasons, we provide a variety of feature sets of this database (including IS13_ComParE, spectrogram, vq-wav2vec) and corresponding label files. To receive a copy of the dataset, the requestor must agree to observe the conditions listed below.

Use is permitted in source and binary form, provided that the following conditions are met:

- The database is provided under the terms of this license strictly for academic, noncommercial, not-for-profit purposes.
- Redistribution, republishing, or dissemination in any form, source or binary, is not permitted without prior written approval by the licensors.
- The names of the licensors may not be used to endorse or promote products derived from this software without specific prior written permission.
- The licensors reserve the right to modify the data/license at any point. Modification of the database by licensees are not permitted.
- In no case should the still frames or sub-audios be used in any way that could cause the original subject embarrassment or mental anguish.
- Any publications arising from the use of this software, including but not limited to academic journal and conference publications, technical reports and manuals, must cite the following work:
